The Magnificent Parenting Talk!

You are invited to a fun evening with the author of best selling book "The Manic Mum's Guide to Magnificent Parenting".

Thursday 6th May at 7.45pm

At Holme Grange School

'I'd definitely recommend this book to other stressed out mums.' Prima Magazine

Does family life ever seem manic?

You will:

- + Learn about your individual parenting style
- + Gain an understanding of what makes your children tick
- + Learn strategies to improve communication, co-operation and family harmony
- + Laugh and have fun
- + Be inspired to make personal changes

Fancy a calmer life?

- Ever felt like you're banging your head against a brick wall?
- Why not take time out to discover what you can do about your parenting conundrums and learn easy strategies to improve family harmony?

Allison starts from the premise that all parents and children are unique. Parents have varied parenting styles and children are all individuals, no two are quite the same. What works for one won't necessarily work for another.

- By fathoming out what makes you and your children tick, you'll develop a new level of understanding that'll enable you to improve communication and co-operation in your family.
- Give the wall and your head a rest!
